FOR PRESIDENT : GROVER CLEVELAND. Of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT : A. E. STEVENSON, Court Proceedings.

The Court of General Sessions for Occuee county convened in Walhalla Court House on Tuesday, July 5th, 1892, at 10 A. M., Judge T. B. Fraser presiding. Solicitor M. F. Ansel was in his seat with a batch of indictments spread before him to be acted on by the grand jury. Stenographer Wyatt Aiken, notwithstanding his having become a Benedict since last term, is none the less efficient in making a faithful record of the proceedings.

Judge Fraser briefly instructed the grand jury on the proper manner of investigating the county's official matters, and then charged on the bills of indictment handed out by the Solicitor. No cases were tried by the petit jury

From the time the campaign party ar rived at the Florence depot last night at 10 c'clock until the campaign meeting ended to-day at 4 o'clock the atmosphere in Florence was unearthly hot. Gov. Sheppard and the Conservative party were met at the depot by a brass band and received with loud demonstrations, not unmixed with resentment towards the administration, by a large body of men and youths of the town and escorted to the principal hotel of the beautiful and progressive little city. Gov. Tillman and party were accorde

Conservatives (Florence is by a large majority a Conservative city) assembled on the street, cheered lustily for the Conservatives, and were addressed by Col Youmans and Gov. Sheppard. Half a dezen transparencies with spirited legends manifested the temper and predilictions of the crowd. After the speaking, a long series o cheers for the Conservatives, and continued groans for Tillman, were given, while the crowd stood half an hour. It was after 11 o'clock before the crowd dispersed, and they went off singing "Hang Ben Ti man on a sour apple iree." Two years a ,o the Governor was hooted and groaned at here in a like manner. The crowds began arriving early this morning to attend the meeting and men said there would be trouble. It always required the utmost effect that could be put forth to carry the Florence meeting over peaceably.

At 11 o'clock the crowd, numbering about 600, assembled at the stand. They stood upon their feet in a determined way. It was plain that the hosts were almost evenly divided, or at least thought almost evenly divided, or at least thought had been apprehended from this source. themselves so, though it was subsequently made evident that the Tillman faction was in the majority.

The crowd pressed close to the stand. They seemed jealous of the ground. Pushed up out of the crowd were the transparencies of the night before. The opposition eyed the transparencies and wished them down. The legends were: "Save the Credit of the State," "Sheppard and Orr,"

"Save the State," "We will build the College," "Bingham for Congress," "We Will Whip Sheppard and His Orrful Flock," "Youmans and Truth." The legends acted more to inflame the crowds and to keep them inflamed than every speech delivered. They were red flags constantly flaunting and strife stir-
